ONE HEAD USHER.

The Ways Wherein He Differed From Others of His Calling.

It is as old as the proverb that the cobbler's children are always poorly shod.

The restaurant man goes home for dinner, and the bartender is a total abstainer.

The druggist may patronize the faith cure and the railway man knows of no counter luxury than a ride in a buggy.

The street car conductor is glad to get a day off, so he can take a long walk.

A more remarkable case than any of these is that of the head usher at the theater, and one theater in particular.

Probably every playgoer in Chicago knows him. The title of "head usher" does him an injustice. He is more like a host or the chief of a reception committee.

There are head ushers who pounce upon you, grab the corners, thrust them back into your cramped hands and shout, "There aside to the right!"

There are other head ushers who tell you to hurry up or stop lively. They give loud warning that all corners must be ready.

They shout, "Hey, there!" and are constantly distracted because of the immense responsibility which they imagine is resting upon them.

As soon as a saucy young man gets into a box office or is engaged as an usher, he begins to imagine that he owns the house, the company and a good part of the frontage in the block.

But the exceptional head usher is calm, polite, attentive and solicitous.

No matter how rapidly the crowd may pour in, it seems that every one who comes receives some courtesy at his hands.

He doesn't shout or grab and the small children are not afraid of him.

The most remarkable thing about this model master of ceremonies, however, is that he knows very little about actors or plays.

The other evening, when the house was crowded and the performance was being received with noisy approval, a man who came into the foyer between acts remarked to him, "Well, it's a funny show."

"I dare say," he replied; "the house seems to like it."

"Didn't you see it?"

"No; I was out here all the time."

"Is that so? Don't you step inside to see the performance?"

"Oh, no. My duties keep me here. In the 15 years that I have been in this position I have never seen a performance."

At first the man wouldn't believe it, but it was a fact just the same.—Chicago Record.

THICKING A CRAB.

African Natives Take Advantage of His Industry in a Heartless Manner.

In Africa there exists a certain member of the crab genus commonly known as the great tree crab. This peculiar shellfish has an offensive trick of crawling up the crooked trunks, biting off the coconuts and then creeping down again backward.

The theory is that the nats are attracted by the fat, and the great tree crab is thus enabled to enjoy a hearty meal.

Now, the natives who inhabit regions infested by this ill-conditioned crab are well aware that the lower portion of the crab's anatomy is soft and sensitive, and they believe that the "divalve" was thus constructed in order that he might know when he had reached the ground, and when, conversely, he might with safety release his grasp of the trunk.

So what they do in order to stop his depredations, which often ruin the coconut crops, is this: While the crab is engaged in nipping off the coconuts they climb half way up the trees and there drive a row of long nails right around the tree, allowing an inch or so of the nails to project.

The crab has no knowledge of disaster, nor yet the fitness of things. As he descends the sensitive part of his body suddenly touches the nails. Thinking he has reached the ground, he naturally lets go. Instantly he falls backward and cracks his own shell on the ground.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

"E Pluribus Unum."

The circumstances attending the adoption of the legend "E Pluribus Unum" as the motto of the United States have never been fully explained by the historians. It was probably used on coins—and some say upon early colonial flags—long before it was regularly recognized by the leading officials of the new republic. The oldest coin bearing the motto in full is a colonial cent coined by New Jersey in the year 1786. The same year it appeared on a small medal recognized among the collectors of coins as "the confederate."

This medal was a national token, I believe, and was coined by authority of the general government. It bore on one side 13 stars and a blazing sun, the latter surrounded by the word "Confederate," which gives it the name by which it is known to the numismatists.

The words in the headline are undoubtedly from Virgil's "Moretus," a poem devoted to a description of a certain salad! In the rhyming recipe he gives instructions for mixing the proper herbs and pounding the same in a mortar until the various colors blend as one. Some one has very appropriately said that "the colonies were mixed in the mortar of the Revolution and came out as one homogeneous nation."—St. Louis Republic.

SMALLER THAN USUAL

—Illusion, in fact, are Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, Chief Consulting Physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., was the first to introduce a Little Pill to the American people. For all laxative and cathartic purposes these sugar-coated

Pellets are superior in great many ways to all mineral waters, seltzer powders, salts, castor oil, fruit syrups, laxative teas, and other purgative compounds. Made of concentrated vegetable ingredients, they act in a mild, natural way. Their second any effect is to keep the liver active and the bowels regular, not to further constipate, as is the case with other pills. They don't interfere in the least with the diet, habits of occupation, and produce no pain, griping or shock to the system.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, costiveness, or constipation, sour stomach, loss of appetite, coated tongue, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belchings, "heart-burn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. These Pellets are easily dissolved in the stomach and absorbed into the blood, stimulating a flow of bile from the liver, and arousing to activity all the glandular secretions. Thus they act in nature's own way. In proof of their superior excellence, it can be truthfully said, that they are always adopted as a household remedy after the first trial. Put up in glass vials, therefore always fresh and reliable.

One little "Pellet" is a laxative, two are mildly cathartic. As a "dinner pill," to promote digestion, take one each day after dinner. To relieve distress from over-eating, they are unequalled.

They are tiny, sugar-coated granules; any child will readily take them. Once used, always use them.

Accept no substitute that may be recommended to be "just as good." It may be better for the dealer, because of paying him a better profit, but he is not the one who needs help.

She finds, too, that she can be more athletic if she never misses her cup of Parks' Tea. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson.

THE CLEVELAND ADMINISTRATION.

It is becoming noted as a law-breaker.

Editor JOURNAL.—The present Administration suspends or violates every law that does not meet its approval or the approval of the plutocrats whom it represents. We will cite a few instances where the violation of the law was so plain and so public that no one can deny it. First, we will take the case of the New York banks during the panic of 1893. The Treasury Department was painfully aware of the fact that the New York banks were keeping open house in direct violation of the law and it was repeatedly so advertised to the world. But the New York banks told the Administration not to disturb them, and the Administration obeyed. At the same time that the New York banks were violating the law, the Government was enforcing the law against the Western banks. A Senator attempted to introduce a resolution in the U. S. Senate to find out why the Government was discriminating in favor of the New York banks, but such a storm of protests went up from the agents of plutocracy, that the resolution never got a hearing. They held up their hands with holy horror and said if the New York banks were closed there would be a perfect deluge of panics, and everybody would be ruined. After the panic was over James H. Eckels, Controller of the Currency, in a banquet speech delivered in Chicago, congratulated the banks on the able manner in which they steered the country through that famous panic. Another act of law-breaking by the Treasury Department was its refusal to purchase $4,500,000 ounces of silver bullion per month for several months prior to the repeal of the law requiring the purchase.

Probably the most disgraceful act of the present Administration was its secret contract with the Rothschilds and Morgan whereby these millionaire bond holders were allowed to make a profit of $5,000,000 on an investment of practically nothing. Rothschild and Morgan were simply commission brokers between the Government and the real purchasers of the bonds. The Government gave them ample time to deliver the gold so they could dispose of the bonds at the largest premium possible. There is about $3,000,000 of the gold that has not yet been delivered; but the Government is charged with interest on the full amount, from February 1st 1895. Castile in apologizing for the harsh terms contained in the contract said: "the banks had the Government completely at their mercy; and the terms were the best the Government could get."

FARMER.

A BACHELOR'S BANK.

Money Found Hidden in all Parts of his Premises.

Charles Marre, an old bachelor died recently in the county hospital at Nevada City. He owned a little house at Bloomfield and kept a lot of chickens and derived some revenue from the sale of eggs and poultry. It was supposed that he had some money, but no one knew where he kept it. Upon his death the Public Administrator, Ed W. Schmidt, was granted letters of administration upon the estate. Grant Skidmore, John Sughrue and F. J. Le Du, all of North Bloomfield, were appointed appraisers. When they went to view the real estate they looked around and decided to search the premises for hidden money. They commenced digging up the ground in the chicken house and woodshed and under the house where Marre had lived. They worked for a week, but failed to find any money buried. But underneath the nests in the chicken house, back of the board that supported the nests, were found three baking powder cans and a small wooden box all filled with money, the amount being $2,065, in gold. In the cook-stove, in the ash-pail or hearth, beneath the ashes, $1,170 in gold coin was found. The searchers also found in the oven of the stove $5.50 in silver. In the left rear the stovepipe they found $716, and in the woodbox $140 was found. A gold ring and 20 cents were found in the cupboard, making in all $4,095.70.

Charles Marre was a bachelor and had lived at Bloomfield and in that vicinity for many years. He had no relatives in this country, but has a sister living in Italy, of which country deceased was a native. His death occurred on the 15th of May.

DOUBLE-DECK CARS.

What is Said of the Concession to Western Sheep-men.

The Chicago Live Stock Report has the following:

"Last week the Southern (Central) Pacific Railroad Company made a very important concession to the stockmen of Nevada and Eastern California, viz., to bring west as far as Reno, a city some six hundred miles west of Ogden, the double-deck cars of the eastern lines, for the shipment of sheep to the Chicago market. These cars will take the same rates as the cattle cars and will contain from 200 to 250 sheep. By this action, the Southern Pacific opens up the natural market for this stock, and enables the growers of mutton to escape from the butchers monopoly in San Francisco, and get at least the market price for their stock. The credit of this new move is largely due to the efforts of Clay Robinson & Co., who for the past few months have been working to accomplish this end."

The rehearsals for Pygmalion and Galatea are progressing admirably. The cast is especially selected and the production of the play will be one of Mr. Laurie's best efforts.

A New Hotel—Good Fishing—Proposed Improvement.

The hotel and boarding house now in the course of erection is about to be opened, possibly by the last of this week, when the fishermen will be able to secure good accommodations. The building is about 120 feet east of the depot and is quite an extensive looking building, being 50x20 feet with a shed kitchen of the same, and is two stories.

The fishermen had good luck here Sunday, there being close to sixty pounds caught and over forty pounds shipped to market, or about four hundred fish from seven to eight to the pound of the small fish, and the largest, 3½ pounds, was caught with a few strands of horse hair for a leader and a line as large as a clothes line. The outfit was made by an experienced fisher, who hooked on to one that he claims weighed 9 or 10 pounds, after playing it for about thirty minutes it twisted the horse hair off and got away. T. H. Brown, who is generally good for his ten or twelve pounds, lost his nip on Sunday, bagging three or four pounds or a total of eighteen fish. The largest catch of any one man was an even ten pounds. June bugs on fly hooks was the bait used during the day, also the grasshopper with sinkers.

O. Loukey of Verdi has the saw mill in full operation, and the National Ice Co. is shipping an average of seven to ten cars a day, while Cuba averages from twelve to fourteen. It is thought the Peoples' Ice Co. will have shipped out all their ice by about the 7th of July, when the Rocky Run Ice Co. will open up.

Messrs. Brower and Worthington, the former being the man who was capsized in the boat with the late Jack Foulks have purchased some timber land just below here and are contemplating the cutting of wood to be driven to Reno in the Truckee river. They propose to cut the wood into eighteen inch lengths and flume or drive it to Reno and then split it into stove wood. It is their opinion that the bolts will float much more rapidly and satisfactorily than if split and then drove. They intend to erect a foot bridge across the river just below here, which will be good news to the fishermen, as they will then be able to get into the best fishing places along the river without much walking.

Mrs. M. A. Garthe is expected here this week on an extended visit to her nephew, E. W. Black, she will be accompanied by her daughter, Miss Gracie.

Bicycle Notes.

New wheels are coming to town every day.

Harris, the bicycle man, is kept as busy as a bee repairing and putting bicycles in order. He also has an assortment of new wheels for sale and for rent.

Hardly a day passes now that some bicycle tourist or a party of them do not arrive in town. Yesterday a Mr. Marshall and wife of San Francisco arrived from Carson, having crossed the mountains by Tahoe. They returned to California last night by train.

An Englishman has invented a cycling gown for ladies which is likely to find favor. It is a convertible costume and can be turned into a walking or promenade dress, a cycling bloomer costume or for mountaineering. Off the machine it represents a full length skirt adapted for home or street wear. Knickerbockers are worn beneath it. The skirt is made in a good serviceable tweed of any color, or cheviot serge, the bodice skirt and knickerbockers being sewed together. The skirt is made to button on either side. A lady can in a moment unbutton a few of these buttons, raise the skirt and throw it over her shoulder from where it falls loosely and gracefully, similar to a Roman peplum. The lady is then dressed for the wheel. Upon dismounting she allows the skirt to fall from her shoulders, buttons the side and is dressed for the street. Galters can be worn, also leggings at the pleasure of the wearer. It is probable that the new dress will be adopted at once.

E. T. Hollingsworth made the run to Carson on his wheel last Saturday in a little less than four hours. He made Steamboat in forty-five minutes. He remained in Carson that night, and Sunday morning left for a point near Gardnerville, something over twenty miles, and returned to Carson the same day. Monday he started for Reno and was making a good run, but punctured a tire near Washoe and was compelled to take the local for the balance of the trip.

An Accident on the Nevada County Narrow Gauge Road.

An accident occurred on the Nevada County Narrow Gauge Railroad yesterday afternoon that came very near being disastrous. The train was bound for Colfax, and the engine ran on a side track ditching it and several flat and freight cars were demolished. The train men saved themselves by jumping, so no one was seriously hurt, although the passengers were badly shaken up. The accident occurred just a few feet from an 80-foot trestle.

A Good Mining Country.

An interesting article on the mines in Grant county, Oregon, appears in an issue of the Epigram of June 3, published at Baker City in that State. The La Bellvue at Granite, one of the largest mines in the State, is situated 41 miles east of Baker City, and there is an immense amount of work in progress. The ore works about an equal amount of gold and silver and runs from $200 to $300 per ton. John Vase, formerly of Virginia, is manager of the mine. Will R. Randall, formerly of Virginia, but afterwards a clerk in the mint at Carson, is bookkeeper. They meet very highly of the prospect and say that there are many rich mines in the country adjacent to Granite. The country is filling up and business is good, and there is every indication that many of the camps will be booming in the near future. Both of the gentlemen named above are brothers-in-law of James Kerr of Reno.

The Grandest Medicine

One of Reno's prominent ladies says: "Viavi is the grandest medicine in the world." She had treated with the best specialists in the city; also had employed local physicians, but says: "Viavi beats them all," and I quite agree with her. I will be pleased to explain the cures we make to all who call.

Mrs. B. E. Hunter, Viavi Co.

Off for Pyramid Lake.

A party consisting of R. W. Parry and family, W. E. Gould and family, A. Gould and family, T. A. Read, Jr., and Miss Maggie Hymers will leave this morning for Pyramid Lake on a fishing excursion.

BREVITIES.

Miss Flora Finlayson is expected home this week and will remain in Reno during her Summer vacation.

H. J. Thyes' place is one of the coolest and coolest places in town these hot days. The latest of Summer drinks are a specialty, and a nice, cool lemonade or glass of beer is very refreshing.

The Grand Marshal for Carson's Fourth of July parade has published his proclamation setting forth the formation of the procession, line of march and order of exercises. Dancing will be free to all at the Opera House and Turner's Hall during the afternoon.

It is reported that some town boys have been amusing themselves by breaking the windows out of the Anderson school house, also going into the building and damaging the blackboards, throwing ink on the floor and doing other mean tricks. If caught they will be severely punished.

A "nickel in the slot" machine has been placed in the waiting room at the depot. It is said that the railroad company is not satisfied with excessive passenger and freight rates, but has leased the privilege of putting these machines in the depot waiting rooms all along the line, in order that the people may be relieved of their small change while waiting for trains.

Mrs. Valentine Walther of Huntington valley was fatally injured by being thrown out of a wagon. The Elko Independent says the lady and her husband were on the road to visit friends. He got out to open a gate, the horses ran away and she was thrown out of the wagon and sustained injuries from which she died in a few hours. Mrs. Walther was the mother of eight daughters and three sons.

President Cleveland, Senator Sherman and other prominent political agents of the gold trust, are said to be delighted with the manner in which the Republican League Convention disposed of the silver question. They have discovered that the simplest and most effective method of settling a vexed question is to dodge it. It is much easier than fitting in such words as inconvertibility in platforms.

The remains of M. H. Lonergan arrived from California yesterday and were forwarded to Carson. Mr. Lonergan was one of the trusted engineers of the V. & T. and had been in the company's employ for many years. He was taken to San Francisco a couple of weeks ago for treatment for heart disease, and died at Dr. Lane's hospital. He leaves a wife and several children. His engine on the V. & T. is draped in crepe.

Rev. Dr. Parker

Is the beloved pastor of the Universalist church at Fargo, N. D., and has also been a pastor in Providence, R. I., New York City and Troy, N. Y. He says: "I regard Hood's Sarsaparilla the best blood purifier, and I have good reason for this opinion. I am now 80 years of age. Four years ago I was afflicted with rheumatism in my back and limbs, so badly that it was impossible for me to get my usual sleep at night. I had just partially recovered from the grip, which reduced my weight 40 lbs. My appetite was poor and I felt languid and weak. In fact I was in a very dilapidated condition. Having heard and read so much about the wonderful cures produced by Hood's Sarsaparilla I resolved to give it a trial. I followed the directions, and before the fifth bottle was finished my appetite was restored, I felt invigorated and strong. My rheumatic difficulty had entirely disappeared. I cannot but think very highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla." J. N. PARKER.
